

Constitution of the United ISKCON Kids of America

Revised Again

In order to ordain and establish a more perfect Union, we write this Constitution. Sri Sri Radha Kunjabihari Ki Jay!

Our nation is dedicated to true liberty. Freedoms include:

- ❖ Speech (with limits)
- ❖ Property
- ❖ Any other interests (again, with limits)

The government of the UIKA shall consist of a one house Congress and an Executive Branch run by the President of the UIKA.

Congress consists of delegates to make laws in a friendly and honest fashion. To become a congressman, one must recite this oath:

"I, (First and Last name), do solemnly promise I shall support, protect, and defend the UIKA, its government, its laws, and its Constitution. I shall execute this position according to the scriptural injunctions to the best of my ability."

Powers of Congress include:

- ❖ To make laws
- ❖ Decide on issues with the President
- ❖ Approve truces, treaties, etc.
- ❖ Establish freedoms, but enforcement power is for the President
- ❖ Eliminate violence and other misdemeanors
- ❖ Make good friendships
- ❖ Run government properties
- ❖ Appropriate government money for spending according to the President's ideas.
- ❖ Propose and ratify amendments
- ❖ Citizenship laws
- ❖ Act as a Supreme Court when needed

❖ Remove government officials for bad behavior based on voting.

A Congress member and the President can also be removed.

The Executive Branch is headed by the President of the U.K.A., and it consists of the President, a vice president, a secretary, a technologist, an art director, a music director, website directors, a news host for the U.K.A News Network, and indirectly, the temple pujaris. The President acts as treasurer and can make new posts and appointments. He/she can also negotiate treaties and suggest laws and amendments to Congress. The President has the right to resign and fire officials in the Executive Branch for bad behavior. To become the President if elected, one must recite this oath:

“I, (First and Last name), do solemnly promise I shall support, protect, and defend the U.K.A, its government, its laws, and its Constitution. I shall execute this position according to the scriptural injunctions to the best of my ability.”

The Executive Branch is in charge of:

- ❖ The WKA Temple
- ❖ The website
- ❖ Kirtans
- ❖ Parades
- ❖ Festivals
- ❖ Art on the website
- ❖ WKA News Network (WNN)

Misdemeanors that will be prosecuted include:

- ❖ Violence
- ❖ Being too loud
- ❖ Disruption of peace and activities
- ❖ Messing up the place
- ❖ Disrupting the News Network
- ❖ Creating chaos
- ❖ Using other people's property or damaging it
- ❖ Using government property when unauthorized or damaging it

❖ Violation of any other freedoms or laws passed by Congress

Prosecutions of all misdemeanors include a fine. They will also be told on to an adult. The adult will decide what to do with the person.

Additional Facts

❖ Language: American English

❖ Nation size: basement

❖ First snowfall: 11/30/13

❖ WKA Temple Opening: 12/15/13

❖ WKA News Network beginning: 12/8/13

Citizens are expected to help in all government activities and follow all laws passed by Congress. They must keep the peace and protect the Constitution. They should participate in elections and they have the right to run for government positions. Citizens should also attend arati, Kirtans, and lectures at the temple. Finally, they should attend the weekly meeting with Sudhir Prabhu or one of the other adults. To become a citizen, one must recite this oath:

“I, (First and Last name), do solemnly promise I shall support, protect, and defend the UJKA, its government, its laws, and its Constitution. I shall behave according to the scriptural injunctions.”

If one doesn't desire to become a citizen, they must only follow laws passed by Congress and keep the peace. However, they cannot work anywhere. If you want a job, just become a citizen. The whole process takes just a minute and your only true obligation is that you must follow the laws.

Let us establish and run the UJKA!!! Sri Sri Radha Kunjabihari
Ki Jay!
