UIKA Museum

Do you like history? If so, visit the UIKA Museum! See old things like notebooks that were written in before the first iPhone even came out!!! Admission for a tour is only $2! Visit it today for a history lesson! :) Remember, it's about pre-UIKA events, since the nation's new.

UIKA LIBRARY

Like books? Head down to the UIKA Library for something to read! Boasting 18 books already for just one week of the library, this is one awesome place! It has drama scripts, bhajans, books, journals that are being constantly updated, and electronic books. It has publications of languages! Come down there today!

Just saying, a UIKA app is on its way for Android!

Uikagov.weebly.com

The nation has a new website!!! Visit it today and read the Constitution, pay your taxes and fines, help improve the nation, and read the news! There are forums to discuss about topics concerning the welfare of the nation! Also, you can pay taxes and fines through email! Check the Payments tab for more info on that. Come on, get involved with the UIKA through the web!

UIKA's First "Snowfall"

On 11/30/13, the first snowfall, or to be exact, a Styrofoam shower, occurred! The "snow" was slippery, and mostly fell in suburban and rural UIKA. The "snow" has static electricity in it, so be careful and watch out for more snow! And by the way, it was cleaned up by the UIKA government with snow blowers and CLEAN UP ACT 4. For more info on this CLEAN UP ACT, check out the article "CLEAN UP ACT 4" on the next page.

CLEAN UP ACT 4

From 11/30/13 to 12/1/13, UIKA's fourth clean up act was passed!!! This might be weird! However, UIKA really needed it. It was extremely detailed, and the UIKA is totally restructured!!! It even involved vacuuming certain places! Now, the UIKA is better than ever and is still growing!

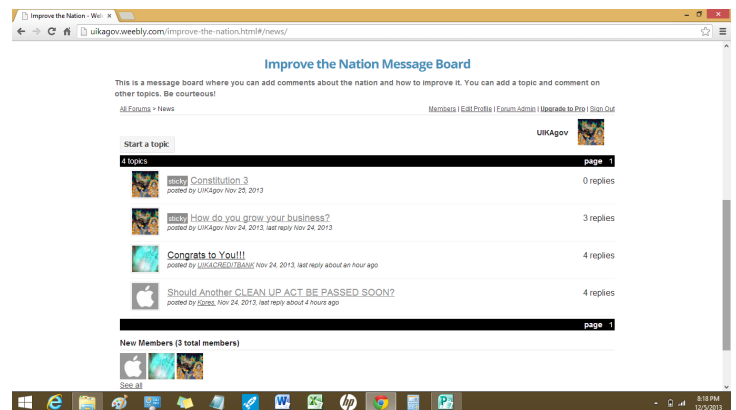

Check out the NEW MESSAGE BOARD!!!

Want to share your opinions with the UIKA? Check out the new message board on uikagov.weebly.com.

You can reply to existing topics using pretty much any popular account, such as a Gmail account! Also, you can start your own topic. It may be a question, a petition, or a statement. Remember, the only rule is that you must be courteous! So start posting! By the way, the message board is on the "Improve the Nation" tab of the website.

Tax Week

Tax Week is 12/15/13, the week of the election! Be sure to pay!
